

Audubon DeBore Oak

Wednesday, November 25, 2009 8:30 AM

From: "Denise LeBlanc"

To: "info@operationcleansweepnola.com"
<info@operationcleansweepnola.com>

The DeBore Oak, planted by Monsieur DeBore over 250 years ago, is a New Orleans icon. Recently the historic oak had seen increased amounts of vandalism in the form of graffiti and deep carvings into the bark of this Sentenial Oak. Fred, we thank you for working with us to save this historic tree. Since your repairs the tree has seen a very large drop in vandalism. It has been returned to its glory and will remain a part of the City for many future generations to enjoy.

Thank you

Tracey Henneman

Operations Administrative Coordinator

Audubon Zoo

6500 Magazine St

New Orleans, LA 70118

AudubonInstitute.org

Denise LeBlanc

Purchasing Manager

Audubon Nature Institute